Russia kills trade pact with U.S.

New rescue vehicle purchased for sheriff's department

The Fayette County Sheriff's Department has a new addition.

A four-wheel drive, heavy duty, Chevrolet "suburban" truck, wagon fully-equipped with radio, warning devices, a narcotics analysis kit, portable generators with lights and other crime detection equipment has joined the staff.

The new vehicle, which carried a price tag of $9,000, was purchased through funds obtained from the federal Law Enforcement Assistance Act ($6,750) and the Fayette County Sheriff's auxiliary, which paid the remaining $2,250. Sheriff Donald L. Thompson explained no county funds were used for the purchase and the money donated by the sheriff's auxiliary was accumulated through a number of fund-raising projects over the past seven years.

THE TRUCK will later be equipped with a hydraulic rescue ram used to free people pinned in wreckage, Sheriff Thompson announced and added, "the purpose of the vehicle is to assist in rescue situations where street vehicles can't perform; therefore, it'll be used on a limited basis, because our cruisers can handle most situations, but the rescue truck

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Soviet Union has killed a major trade agreement with the United States and has nullified any understandings to relax restrictions on the emigration of Russian Jews, Secretary of State Henry A. Kissinger says.

In a hurriedly arranged news conference, Kissinger said Tuesday night that "the Soviet government has now informed us that it cannot accept a trading relationship based on the legislation recently enacted in this country."

The Pentagon also disclosed Tuesday that the Soviet Union had begun installing missiles with multiple warheads. The recent U.S.-Soviet arms pact permits such a step.

Kissinger's mention of legislation referred to the new Trade Bill and Export-Import Bank extension act with their restrictions on credits for Moscow and refusal of equal trading arrangements unless Jews are allowed to leave Russia in greater numbers.

As Kissinger explained, "The Soviet government states that it does not intend to accept a trade status that is discriminatory and subject to political conditions."

Because Kissinger had given only the barest advance notice of his statement to members of Congress, there was no immediate Capitol Hill reaction.

A spokesman for Sen. Henry M. Jackson, D-Wash., the main supporter of the restrictive legislation, said no comment would be forthcoming until a complete study was done on the situation.

The chairman of the Conference of Presidents of Major Jewish Organizations, Rabbi Israel Miller, said Tuesday the emigration issue was more than a simple domestic Russian question.

"Emigration is not an internal issue and human rights do not stop at national frontiers," he said, adding that his group will continue its pressure for better treatment of Russian Jews.

In Los Angeles, a spokesman for the Occidental Petroleum Corp. said that its contracts with the Soviets remain in force despite nullification of the trade agreements. Company officials have put the value of the contracts at up to $20 billion.

The Soviet renunciation was of a 1972 agreement in which Moscow said it would pay $722 million to settle its World War II Lend-Lease debt in exchange for American pledges to remove discriminatory trade barriers against commerce with Russia.

When the administration attempted to implement the pledge by asking Congress to extend most favored nation status to Moscow in a new trade reform bill, Jackson attached his now famous amendment despite strenuous warnings by Kissinger that the Soviets would reject it.

Co-sponsored by more than 70 senators with an equally overwhelming majority favoring similar moves in the House, Jackson demanded that the status not be given to any country seriously restricting emigration of minority groups.

He finally compromised with Kissinger and President Ford,

Congress hears State of Union message

President Ford outlines economic proposals

WASHINGTON (AP) — Declaring "I've got bad news, and I don't expect any applause," President Ford outlined for Congress today his blueprint for rescuing the slumping economy through tax cuts and higher fuel prices.

Virtually all Ford's specific proposals were disclosed in his television-radio address to the nation Monday or by White House Press Secretary Ron Nessen at a news briefing Tuesday.

The major elements of the President's program include:

—A one-time tax cut of 12 per cent in last year's taxes, to be accomplished through rebates to individual taxpayers of up to $1,000.

—A long-term tax reduction starting this year, with the largest reductions going to the poorest taxpayers.

—Proposals to cut corporate income taxes and increase tax credits for businesses that spend money on their plants and equipment.

—Direct federal payments of $80 to each adult American too poor to pay any income taxes.

—An increase in revenue-sharing funds to state and local governments.

—A proposal for a $2-a-barrel tax on crude oil and higher excise taxes on oil, plus total decontrol of all domestic oil prices. The result would be an increase of about 10 cents a gallon for gasoline and home heating oil. White House officials also estimated that the excise-tax increase would cause a one-shot increase of 2 per cent in the Consumer Price Index.

—A request for standby authority to ration gasoline if higher costs fail to meet his objective of reducing oil imports by a million barrels a day this year and two million in 1976.

Ford did disclose a few new proposals in his State of the Union message and a shorter address delivered personally to a joint session of Congress.

Ford revealed he wants to stockpile 1.3 billion barrels of crude oil in tanks and underground caverns over a period of years so the country could cope with any repetition of the 1973-74 Arab oil embargo.

The President also said for the first time that he wants to grant utilities a three-year investment tax credit of 12 per cent "to specifically speed the construction of power plants that do not use natural gas or oil." The present tax credit rate for utilities is 4 per cent.

One presidential proposal that could ultimately have a major impact on the average citizen was not mentioned in Ford's text but was spelled out in a White House-prepared fact sheet.

The fact sheet said Ford wants a new law to require labels on all new automobiles and appliances spelling out how much energy they use.

In addition, the fact sheet said he wants agreement within six months from major manufacturers to develop energy efficiency goals that would achieve an average 20 per cent improvement by 1980. These would cover air conditioners, refrigerators and other home appliances.

"If agreement cannot be reached," the document said, "the President will submit legislation to establish mandatory appliance efficiency standards." The objective for this program alone was fixed at saving half a million barrels of oil a day by 1985.

Calling for congressional action by April 1 to grant individuals 12 per cent cash rebates on 1974 tax payments, with a maximum of $1,000 per return,

Ford sketched a rather gloomy picture of current economic conditions. He said: "I must say to you that the state of the union is not good."

"Millions of Americans are out of work. Recession and inflation are eroding the money of millions more. Prices are too high and sales are too slow."

"This year's federal deficit will be

San Francisco residents making dog hair sweaters

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — Not ones to waste anything in today's depressed economy, some San Franciscans are making sweaters, skirts, scarves, gloves and hats. All from their dogs' hair.

"Twenty dogs can make a mountain of hair. You might as well use it," said Frances Roe in an interview Tuesday.

"It makes a super warm sweater," Mrs. Roe said she meets almost every month with friends who, like her, own Samoyeds, an arctic dog commonly used for pulling sleds. The friends come carrying bags of the stuff obtained through normal shedding and combing and sit about turning it into yarn and then articles of clothing.

"There is something so aesthetically pleasing about wearing something made from your own dog's hair," said Bob Jones, a department store display builder.

He contends the Samoyed's moderately long hair is best for spinning yarn, though he sometimes combines it with St. Bernard, Pomeranian or collie hair. It is important to keep one Samoyed's hair separated from another's, because owners insist on wearing something made of hair from their own dog.

Mrs. Roe says she plans to invest in an electric spinner to speed up the manufacturing process. Using a manual spinner, "It takes about an hour to spin an ounce, but an ounce goes a long way."

CIA probes hear Colby testimony

WASHINGTON (AP) — Intelligence chief William E. Colby is beginning what is expected to become a series of appearances before congressional committees investigating alleged domestic spying by the CIA.

Senate Appropriations Chairman John L. McClellan, D-Ark., said Tuesday his five member subcommittee on intelligence would not conduct an "in depth" inquiry but would focus on CIA use of appropriated funds. Colby and former agency director Richard M. Helms will be questioned today in closed session.

At the same time, Senate Democrats have begun efforts to consolidate the various investigations promised by congressional committees into one panel fashioned along the lines of the Watergate committee.

Defense Secretary James R. Schlesinger said Tuesday that published reports of CIA domestic surveillance activities are "over-blown."

Schlesinger, who headed the spy agency for six months in 1973, told a Pentagon news conference that there were a number of CIA domestic activities "that are indeed in retrospect to be regretted," but he added that "there were not acts in such numbers or so surprising as to be a source of national turmoil."

Schlesinger discounted published reports that the CIA maintained files on 10,000 American citizens. Whatever files the agency has on U.S. citizens are the product of foreign surveillance and not domestic spying, Schlesinger indicated.

In a related development, Deputy Atty. Gen. Laurence H. Silberman issued a statement confirming that in 1970 the Justice Department gave the CIA a computer tape with the names of 10,000 to 12,000 persons involved in civil disturbance.

"We have been advised that the CIA never put the tape to use and that it was destroyed in March 1974," Silberman said.

It remained unclear, however, whether the Justice Department list was the basis for newspaper reports that the CIA maintained files on 10,000 Americans.

John W. Dean III said Tuesday that former White House special counsel Charles W. Colson had confirmed to him rumors that the CIA bugged the Chilean embassy. Dean, who shared a prison barracks with Colson, told NBC

News that Colson said the CIA was afraid that Dean would reveal the existence of the bug in his Watergate testimony and arranged for the FBI to remove it.

Dean said Colson told him that Helms was closer to Watergate burglar E. Howard Hunt Jr. than Helms has been willing to admit.

Dean said he learned from Colson that when Hunt resigned from the CIA "Helms gave him $20,000 cash — I don't know whether it was Helms' personal money or whether it was CIA money or what."

Both the FBI and CIA refused to comment on the report.

about $30 billion; next year's probably $45 billion. The national debt will rise to over $500 billion.

"Our plant capacity and productivity are not increasing fast enough. We depend on others for essential energy."

"Cutting taxes, now, is essential if we are to turn the economy around," Ford added. "A tax cut offers the best hope of creating more jobs. Unfortunately, it will increase the size of the budget deficit. Therefore, it is more important than ever that we take steps to control the growth of federal expenditures."

Echoing what he said Monday, Ford promised to initiate no new spending programs this year except in the energy field.

"Further, he said, 'I will not hesitate to veto any new spending programs adopted by the Congress.'"

Ford said some Americans "question their government's ability to make the hard decisions and stick with them." They expect from Washington "politics as usual," he said.

Asserting that the nation's plight requires "a new partnership between the Congress, the White House and the people we both represent," Ford said:

"I want to speak very bluntly. I've got bad news and I don't expect any applause. The American people want action and it will take both the Congress and the President to give them what they want."

In the energy area, Ford said he would propose a 10-year postponement of clean air standards, due to take effect in mid-1975, for power plants that convert from use of oil to coal. He said this would not sacrifice clean air goals but simply delay their implementation.

The President also called for legislation "to make thermal efficiency standards mandatory for all new buildings in the United States," saying these standards would be set "after appropriate consultation with architects, builders and labor."

Esponsing a new tax credit of up to $150 for homeowners who install storm windows or other insulation, Ford called for a new federal aid program "to help low-income families purchase insulation supplies." The fact sheet said he would seek supplemental appropriations of $500 million to carry such a program through 1976.

As he stated on Monday, Ford proposed modifying and deferring auto pollution standards for five years "to enable us to improve new automobile gas mileage 40 per cent by 1980" through voluntary means.

The President reiterated his proposal to increase all crude oil prices by imposing a $2-a-barrel excise tax and import fees with the aim of discouraging production.

This would be accompanied by deregulation of new natural gas prices and enactment of a natural gas excise tax of 37 cents per 1,000 cubic feet, enactment of a windfall profits tax on oil producers and decontrol of the price of domestic crude oil on April 1.

Oil, gas price hike promoted

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Ford asked Congress today to raise oil and gas prices on a public already burdened with inflation, recession and high fuel prices.

In his first State of the Union address, already previewed by the President, Ford planned to request an excise tax of $2 per barrel on oil and an equivalent tax of 37 cents per thousand cubic feet on natural gas. Together with a higher tariff on imported oil, which Ford already has the authority to impose, the steps are expected to raise the retail price of gasoline by around five cents a gallon.

The President also is expected to request standby authority to ration gasoline in case higher prices fail to deter energy consumption.

Herbert's ouster from panel looms

WASHINGTON (AP) — A drive to oust F. Edward Hebert from the chairmanship of the House Armed Services Committee has picked up a veteran organizer, and Hebert is taking the move seriously.

Rep. Les Aspin, D-Wis., a member of the House for five years, joined a group of freshmen Democratic congressmen Tuesday in its push to depose Hebert from the post that has made him one of the most powerful supporters of defense spending.

"The chemistry is there to beat Hebert," Aspin said in an interview. He is an outspoken Hebert foe who put together a liberal-conservative House coalition two years ago which voted to chop $1 billion off the defense budget.

Hebert is asking every Democrat he encounters on the House floor to reelect him to the Armed Services post when the Democratic caucus votes Thursday on all 21 major committee chairmanships.

But in an interview Hebert refused to predict whether he would win.

In other developments in the new 94th Congress: —Battle lines solidified between its heavily Democratic majority and President Ford over tax and energy programs, even before the President's State of the Union message to spell out the details of his entire economic and energy policy package.

Most Congressional Democrats said the $16 billion tax cut proposed by the President on Monday should be modified to concentrate on lower- and middle-income taxpayers. The White House announced Tuesday a proposed permanent $22.5 billion in additional tax cuts.

Ford's press secretary, Ron Nessen,

Flood of legislation eyed by Ohio solons

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Still jolted from an opening week of political warfare, Ohio's legislature turns its attention to other matters today with leaders hoping for a cooling off period.

The Senate Commerce and Labor Committee begins hearings on an apparently bipartisan bill to help the state's longtime unemployed.

It would give an additional 13 weeks of benefits to jobless workers who already have exhausted their regular 26 weeks of payments.

Otherwise, committees of the House and Senate planned organizational meetings so they can start hearing about 130 bills which already have been introduced in the two chambers. It may be another week or two before a significant number of proposals are ready for floor action.

Senate Majority Leader Oliver Ocasek, D-27 Akron, mentioned a possible cooling off period to allow tempers to subside from frantic opening week sessions that sent six bills passed by majority Democrats into court tests.

Republican challenges, centered mainly about a Democratic maneuver to send the bills to their retiring governor without the signature of former GOP Lt. Gov. John W. Brown, now rest in the Franklin County Court of Common Pleas.

Another case has been filed as a class action in U.S. District Court at Youngstown.

It challenges a Democratic congressional redistricting bill, one of the six signed by ex-Gov. John J. Gilligan shortly before he left office.

Ocasek said he understood Senate Minority Leader Michael J. Maloney, R-7 Cincinnati, is asking for a truce of "about 10 days," and indicated he was amenable to the idea.

"I'll cool off if we can just stop filing lawsuits," the Democratic leader said.

Nevertheless, Ocasek said he planned to meet today with Atty. Gen. William J. Brown, a Democrat, to discuss "all of these cases", indicating he was hopeful a Democratic strategy might evolve.

Brown has indicated he is studying possible action against Secretary of State Ted W. Brown, a Republican and no relation to the attorney general, for refusal to file the bills delivered by Gilligan's representatives.

Instead, the secretary of state turned the embattled measures over to John M. McElroy, Rhodes' chief aide, who now has them.

McElroy told The Associated Press he intends to keep them a reasonable amount of time to see if a court determines "what to do with them."

Senators received the new unemployment compensation bill from Sen. Donald L. Woodland, D-16 Columbus, chairman of the Commerce and Labor Committee who predicted its passage by the Senate next Monday.

The immediately-effective emergency bill would replace a benefit extender contained in a broader Democratic measure that became said the reductions would strongly favor lower income groups.

—The Senate prepared to consider the President's nomination of Edward H. Levi, president of the University of Chicago, to be attorney general and his announced intention to nominate William T. Coleman, a Philadelphia lawyer, to be secretary of transportation.

—A consensus developed at a Tuesday caucus of Senate Democrats to establish a special select committee, like the Watergate Committee, to investigate the Central Intelligence Agency. The Democrats will vote on the proposal on Monday.

—Rep. Al Ullman, D-Ore., acting chairman of the House Ways and Means Committee, introduced a national health insurance bill. Sen. George McGovern, D-S.D., announced that 30 other senators would join him in moving to block planned cutbacks in the food stamp program.

Republican sources said no vote would be taken before Thursday.

bogged down in the six-bill Democratic package. Woodland said the latter measure has bipartisan support.

By changing Ohio's law, the state will qualify for a federal bonus to underwrite the entire cost of the first four weeks of the 13 weeks of extra benefits.

Woodland said it means the unemployed who have exhausted benefits will be eligible for the extra payments after the third week in January instead of the third week in February, when Ohio would qualify automatically but lose the bonus.

About 20,000 Ohioans have exhausted their initial benefits. At average payments of $75 for a total of $1.5 million a week, the federal government will be picking up a tab of about $6 million during the first four weeks. After that, the program is shared by the federal government and the state on a 50-50 basis.

Clouds were in the forecast for Ohio today, and a little light snow is likely as a weak low pressure trough moves into the state.

The snow was expected to end from the west this afternoon or evening, except for a chance of flurries continuing tonight off Lake Erie in north-eastern Ohio.

Warmer temperatures were forecast for this afternoon, reaching the mid 20s in the north and the low 30s in southern Ohio.

Some of the season's coldest weather was recorded Tuesday across the state. Youngstown reported a high of 16 and dropped to 8 degrees Tuesday night. At Toledo Airport, the overnight low was 3 degrees under clear skies.

Fair Friday and Saturday and a chance of rain Sunday. Highs Friday in the 30s, warming by Sunday to 40s and low 50s. Lows in upper teens and low 20s Friday and in the 30s Sunday.

Natural gas pinch seen for years

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — The natural gas shortage will not be alleviated within the next several years, an executive of Columbia Gas System, Inc., told the Columbus Chamber of Commerce Tuesday.

"The situation will worsen until our vast potential reserves — between 750 and 1,500 trillion cubic feet — are developed, Richard A. Rosan of Wilmington, Del., said.

Rosan, executive vice president and general counsel of Columbia Gas, denied that his firm had been withholding gas to force passage of legislation to decontrol the well-head price.

Rosan said about 20 to 25 trillion cubic feet of gas must be found each year for the next five to 10 years to alleviate the shortage.

Rosan said relaxation of controls on well-head prices would allow more exploration and would result in an average price increase of about six per cent a year.

"And that's considerably less than the cost of alternate fuels — if they are available," he said.

Rosan also suggested the leasing of Atlantic offshore areas for natural gas and oil exploration and expediting the construction of a pipeline to bring gas from Alaska.

"Even if the proper climate (for gas reserve development) were created in the next six to 12 months," he said, "the minimum lead time for increasing gas supply is four to five years."

Remapping lawsuit reaction is mixed

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—A U.S. District Court suit against an already embattled Democratic congressional redistricting plan has produced mixed emotions for some Republican legislators.

They recalled Tuesday that a similar protest four years ago—against a Democratic plan to make new districts for state legislators—ended in a Democratic victory with the same federal court retaining jurisdiction over any future challenges.

There were none, and as a direct result, Democrats now control both houses of the legislature for the first time since 1961.

The class action suit, filed Monday in federal court at Youngstown by Maria Nespeca, a voter, asks a three-judge panel to declare the latest plan invalid and to issue an injunction against state and county officials from holding elections under it.

Republican said privately they are concerned the action might preclude their challenge of the plan in state courts as a result of the federal panel retaining jurisdiction.

From a practical standpoint, they said, they would rather have their challenge in the Ohio Supreme Court, dominated by Republicans 5-2.

The plan is among six bills that emerged last week from the Democrat-controlled legislature while their party was in control of both the legislature

Stock list up slightly

NEW YORK (AP) — The stock market overcame some early hesitation to post a slight gain today on the strength of some unusually bright wholesale price figures from the government.

The noon Dow Jones average of 30 industrials was up 2.74 at 651.44. Gainers outpaced losers by about an 8-7 margin on the New York Stock Exchange.

As trading began, the Labor Department reported that its wholesale price index actually declined in December — the first month in which that had happened since the autumn of 1973. But brokers reported enthusiasm over that news was dampened by concern in some quarters that President Ford's new economic and energy plans might have inflationary side effects.

Texasco was the most active issue on the NYSE, down 3/4 at 22 1/2. At the American Stock Exchange, the market-value index was down .20 to 67.02.

The Big Board's composite index of all its listed common stocks was up .18 at 38.30.

Syntex, the Amex volume leader, gave up 3/4 to 30 3/4.

Trade pact

agreeing to allow the restrictions to be waived if Ford could give assurances that Soviet emigration restrictions had been eased.

Referring to the Soviet action, Kissinger said "the administration regrets this turn of events. It has regarded and continues to regard an orderly and mutually beneficial trade relationship with the Soviet Union as an important element in the over-all improvement of relations."

Kissinger said he would continue to try for an acceptable U.S.-Soviet trade bill and he refused to be pessimistic about the future of detente.

"We have no reason to believe that the rejection of the provisions of the trade bill has implications beyond" the specific objections raised by Moscow, Kissinger said.

Before the Jackson amendment became an issue, Jewish emigration rose from a trickle to a yearly rate in 1973 of 35,000. According to the Intergovernmental Committee on European Migration in Geneva, the total dropped off 45 per cent last year.

In other developments between the Soviets and the United States: — Defense Secretary James R. Schlesinger said the Soviets have begun deploying missiles capable of carrying multiple warheads which could be aimed at separate targets.

Schlesinger said there is evidence that the Soviets have placed their huge SS18 missiles in silos. The rocket has been tested with as many as eight multiple independently targetable warheads (MIRVs).

The Defense Department estimates that a limited Soviet nuclear attack on U.S. nuclear weapons bases would kill 6.7 million Americans and injure another 5.1 million.

THESE DAYS By John Chamberlain

Modern Islam, the Middle Ages

Newsweek magazine has gone and made a story on what it conceives to be a revival of interest in the Middle Ages.

The evidence it presents for its claims is impressive, for what is the "counter-culture" if it is not an attempt to recover medieval values of simplified dress (blue jeans instead of monks' habits), groups living (the commune instead of the monastery) and the exaltation of the "spirit" (see our Jesus-freaks).

But the Newsweek reporter, Kenneth Woodward, misses one piquant fact: The Middle Ages were forced on Europe by the explosion of Islam which, following the withdrawal of Roman order throughout the Mediterranean, spread over North Africa and even into Spain.

The historic parallel is obvious: Newsweek can publish an article called "Back to the Middle Ages" at the very time the Moslem countries are again in the ascendant. The west is being pushed into an isolated position not by conquering Moors but by a new breed of Saracenic merchant princes who control the energy supply on which modern individualism (as contrasted with medieval communalism) has thrived.

The Newsweek reporter might have speculated on another thing: The people of medieval Europe, pushed back into what has been called the Gothic Twilight, didn't like it. Plain chant singing and stained glass might be beautiful, but a diet of unsupped meat was not to be endured. So we had the Crusaders, undertaken for supposed religious motives but supported by those who craved some alleviation of medieval boredom.

The attempt to break the Moslem hold on the Mediterranean was only a partial success (the Crusaders could not hold on to Jerusalem), but it did end European isolation. For one thing, the Crusaders established the Venetians and the Genoans on the seas. It was the tradition of seamanship that eventually led to the discovery of American and the exploitation of a new route to the East Indies around Africa.

If the Newsweek reporter had only waited a few more days to write his story, he might have been struck by Secretary of State Henry Kissinger's remarks that if "there is some actual strangulation of the industrialized world" (i.e., the West), the use of force to provide the necessary ingredient of energy could not be ruled out.

Kissinger's accents were by no means as positive as those of Pope Urban II who, at the Council of Clermont in 1095, proclaimed the First Crusade as the holy duty of Christendom. But the hint of a modern Crusade was there, even though Kissinger did qualify his statement by adding that "we should have learned from Vietnam that it is easier to get into a war than to get out of it."

Since the modern Moslems do not read the fine print when a prominent Western statesman hints at the possibility of using force to break a "strangulation," the redoubtable Henry must have known that his "hypothetical" remark would get a rise out of the rulers of the Middle Eastern oil-producing nations. The whole thing was part of a charade: The threat of force in the "last instance" was obviously to be interpreted as a request to refrain from any more oil price increases lest the West get really incensed.

This column does not take Kissinger's allegedly "immoral" words as anything more than diplomatic wigwag. But it wonders why Henry didn't threaten the Eastern oil monopolists with a different kind of Crusade.

The sheiks and the Shah of Iran, unlike the medieval Saracens, have been closing in on the West by fighting a war of economics. The West can reply in kind as long as Islam has to take payments for oil in Western currencies. All Henry Kissinger has to do to forestall further price rises is to suggest that the Western nations might revalue their currencies in relation to gold in a way that would turn all the fiat money the Arabs and Iran have accepted into just so much paper.

The West needs a new Pope Urban II. But he should talk, not in terms of physical conquest, but in the modern language of comparative economic values. Oil, to the Moslems, is only good for what it will buy in the technological West. Our answer is not to send gunboats to the Middle East, but to alter the terms of economic trade.

Letters to the Editor

EDITOR, RECORD-HERALD:

We hear so much lately about we are short of this and that. We hear the banks tell us they do not have the money to make home loans and they now make only short term loans.

There is one thing we know for sure — the cost of living is going up every day and people are continually getting laid off their jobs.

But did you know that the federal government wastes $1 million of your tax money each day? It is bad enough with the cost of living and unemployment going up with-out the government taking away so much hard-earned money and then failing to put it to good use.

The U.S. Treasury Department does just this. It keeps $3.9 billion in commercial banks and does not get a dime in interest for it. The money is used to make short term loans and the banks make a big profit off the taxpayer and they tell us the interest rate is not high enough for them to make any money.

The only ones gaining from this are the banks and the big corporations. It is a sad state of affairs and our government should do something about it. If the banks can loan the taxpayer his money and receive a profit from it then it is time they should pay interest on it, too.

Write to your congressman and let him know how you feel about it. The congressman in this area is William H. Harsha, House of Representatives, Washington D.C., 20515.

EDITOR, RECORD-HERALD:

Visiting old friends and meeting new ones, I found your town very delightful. I love your stores and hope to attend the flea market when I return. Attending this vast display of antiques must be quite an experience.

But I was surprised at the speeding that is allowed through the alleys, even during the night. One friend, with whom I visited, had me sleep in a back, upstairs room to avoid hearing the street traffic; however, the noisy speeding in the back alley was just as bad.

Isn't there a city ordinance against this? The drivers should realize that people need their rest for work and some may be elderly and sick.

Possibly your city officials have overlooked this situation. They should put a stop to it for all concerned.

She was first indicted on a murder charge, but the prosecution had reduced the charge to manslaughter.

Dear Abby:

ABIGAIL VAN BUREN

Warm thanks from a cold turkey

DEAR ABBY: I thought you might be interested in the following true story: On November 29, I flew from Dallas, Texas to Little Rock, Arkansas. The flight was filled, and because I got on at the last minute I was given a seat in the NO SMOKING section.

I wanted a cigarette, so I took one out of the pack and put it in my mouth, but before lighting it, I turned to the very attractive lady who was my seat partner, and asked, "Do you mind if I smoke?"

She smiled a pretty smile and replied, "Why don't you do us both a favor, sir, and refrain?"

I was jolted. I put the cigarette back in the package and haven't had one since. In other words, I quit cold turkey! After being a two-pack-a-day man, that's quite an accomplishment. Nobody can believe it.

It took a few words from a stranger to get me to do something I've been putting off for years. Why am I telling you this, Abby? Because you were that woman. How can I thank you?

COLD TURKEY IN ARKANSAS

DEAR ABBY: You just did. Write to me next year at this time, and if you're still "clean," I'll send you a present!

DEAR ABBY: I read in your column that the Number One complaint of wives is, "My husband doesn't appreciate me."

Well, my husband must be an exception because he never leaves the table without saying, "Thanks for dinner, honey."

Gerald phones me from work every day just to ask how things are going with our five sons and me. He reminds me often that he loves me, and he never fails to tell me I look nice when I do.

I could fill a book with his good points, and couldn't even fill a page with his bad points.

We just celebrated our 12th wedding anniversary, and this was the best. They keep getting better every year, Abby.

I know this won't make your column because you have so many more important letters to print, but I just had to let you know that there's a wife in Monroe, N.Y. whose husband really does appreciate her.

MAUREEN HARAN

DEAR MAUREEN: I think it's important to let people know that there are good marriages, too, so accept my belated anniversary congratulations. And take good care of Gerald. He sounds like a prince. And you must be a pretty special wife to deserve such royal treatment.

DEAR ABBY: So the Number One complaint of husbands is, "My wife nags me!" Well, put me down as one husband whose wife nags him-and he's glad of it. Thank God she nags me. It shows she loves me.

I kept putting off going to the doctor to get a checkup, and she finally nagged me into going. The doc said I had to lose 25 pounds, and I kept putting off going on a diet, but my wife nagged me until I went to Weight Watchers. God love her. I finally went-and I lost 32 pounds! And I'm maintaining that weight.

Now my wife is nagging me to see a lawyer and have a will made. I haven't done it yet, but I hope she doesn't quit nagging me before I get hit by a bus.

So, Abby, old girl, please tell your readers that if a wife doesn't nag her husband, she doesn't really love him. Sign me . . .

TV Viewing

By JAY SHARBUTT
AP Television Writer
NEW YORK (AP) — Question: Could "The Untouchables," with all its gunsmoke and bullet-riddled bodies, get by a network censor today amid the current flap over whether TV shows contain too much violence? "You're asking me a question nobody has the answer to because nobody knows what the network censor is," replies Robert Stack, who played Eliot Ness in the famous ABC series from 1959 to 1963.
"The censor is merely a barometer that says 'where'll we go' and 'let's not lose our (broadcasting) licenses.'"
Stack, who on Monday turned 56 and looks 10 years younger, was in town to drum up some publicity for "The Honorable Sam Houston," an ABC special in which he stars next Wednesday (Jan. 22).

The veteran actor, surprisingly cheerful and animated compared to the grim, stonefaced agent he portrayed on "The Untouchables," avoided giving a direct answer when asked if he felt that show was too violent.

"When it first began, nobody asked that question," he said. "Nobody used that word. This is a word to which you have been conditioned."

"You say violent or refer to machine guns in talking about the show. You use all the outward manifestations of a show which basically is a morality play, a show about good and evil."

"The hope is that the 'good' Eliot Ness will be an emphatic link between the audience and the TV set."

Referring to assertions that some viewers emulate what they see on TV, Stack said that if "people believe in 'monkey-see, monkey-do' — which I don't — then you can say, well, Ness is the good guy."

"And he is taking care of evil."
The series, although cancelled by ABC 12 years ago, still is in syndication and still is rerun on TV in a number of cities.

Stack said he's discussed the show's possible effect on viewers with psychiatrists and civilians alike, and personally believes that it only helps viewers relax from their daily tensions.

Stack, whose last series, "Name of the Game," was axed by CBS about three years ago after a three-season run, may return in a new series next season, playing the captain of a cruise ship.

He said he'll take his maiden voyage as a skipper next month on CBS in "Adventures of the Queen," a possible pilot for the series.

B'burg Church Board elects new officers

The official board of the Bloomingburg United Methodist Church met in the home of Mrs. Willard Bloomer and Max Bloomer with 16 present.

The meeting was opened by the group singing a prayer. New officers were elected. They are: Robert Hughes, president; Mrs. Eli Craig, vice president; Mrs. Zoe Garinger, secretary; Mrs. Irene Grim, assistant secretary; and William Purcell, treasurer.

Reports were made by Mrs. Charles Cunningham the Youth Superintendent; Mrs. Craig of the Woman's Society; and Robert Huff, Clerk of the Sunday School.

Plans were also made for several projects for 1975, and announcements made by the Rev. Harold Messmer.

Refreshments were served.

Mrs. Howard club hostess

Mrs. Imel Howard was hostess when seven members and one guest of the DAYP Club assembled in her home. Members worked on crocheted afghans and hats.

Mrs. Carl Wilt and Mrs. Ruth Smith demonstrated cake decorating for the group, and refreshments were served.

Mrs. Orris Mallow will be hostess for the Feb. 11 meeting. Present were Mrs. Clifton Roberts, Mrs. Laverne Morgan, Mrs. Charles Burke, Mrs. Ella Speakman, Mrs. Mallow, Mrs. Wilt and Mrs. Smith.

Marguerite Class meets in Dellinger home

Ten members of the Marguerite Class of First Presbyterian Church met in the home of Mrs. Leonard Dellinger, the president, who conducted the business session.

Mrs. C.L. Musser gave devotions and opened with a Bible verse and an article entitled, "Prayer Can Save America" - citing the prayers of Lincoln, Washington and Benjamin Franklin. All then repeated the Lord's Prayer.

Reports were made by Mrs. Frank Dellinger and Mrs. George Campbell. The class will give flowers for the sanctuary Sunday, Jan. 26, in memory of deceased members.

Yearly dues were raised, and Mrs. Dellinger will call a meeting at a later date to make the programs for the year.

At the close of the meeting, a dessert course was served by the hostess and Mrs. Kenneth Craig.

Teachers retain bargaining agent

YOUNGSTOWN, Ohio (AP) — Youngstown teachers voted by a three-two margin Tuesday night to keep the Youngstown Education Association as their bargaining agent.

Unofficial tallies showed the YEA with 627 votes, compared with 391 for the Youngstown Federation of Teachers, which had sought to become bargaining agent.

Will they cancel January due to lack of interest? Not if you make a special effort to make this a memorable month, despite the chills and Christmas bills. Plan a Depression Party, complete with jazz records of the thirties, and serve thrifty, but nifty food. Thuringer pizza or summer sausage creole on rice with feed a crowd without straining the budget.

'Table decorations' topic of Fayette Garden Club

Fayette Garden Club held its January meeting at Anderson's Restaurant, when 22 members and one guest, Miss Susan Meriweather, enjoyed a dessert course served by the hostesses, Mrs. Willard Bitzer, Mrs. Homer Garringer and Mrs. Homer Smith. The tables were centered with planters of mums and philodendron.

Mrs. Edwin Thompson presided at the business meeting and read a poem entitled "The New Year." Reports were made by Mrs. Maryon Mark and Mrs. C.S. Kelley. Thank you notes for holiday decorations, provided by Fayette Garden Club, were read from the Welfare Department and the Fayette County Children's Home.

It was announced that the annual Dispatch Garden and Flower Show will be March 1-9 in the multi-purpose building on the Ohio State Fairgrounds, Columbus.

Mrs. Kenneth Craig, Horticulture and Conservation chairman, gave a report and showed pictures of new roses and new flowers being offered in catalogues for this year's planting. She cautioned everyone about gift plants received, as many leaves and berries are poisonous. She also said that berries of philodendron, Jerusalem cherry, mistletoe and bittersweet are quite poisonous and should be kept out of reach of children.

Mrs. Robert Meriweather introduced members to the program on "Table Decorations." "Flowers can make tables festive," she said. Flowers or flower arrangements must be attractive at any angle and not too tall. Think of the color first, when selecting flowers for the table she said. They may match, harmonize or contrast with colors of china, linens or glassware and still create a delightful effect. One must not feel that everything must "match," but "belong."

Pastel colors remind one of spring; deeper hues suggest autumn; and roses say dinner is a festive occasion.

Table settings were presented for four occasions: dessert (Valentine's Day), brunch (St. Patrick's Day, dinner (Easter), and picnic (Fourth of July).

Miss Susan Meriweather, in the absence of Mrs. Walter Thompson, created a table setting for a dessert on Valentine's Day. She used a red cloth with crystal dishes, two white tapers in white candle holders, white napkins, corkscrew willow, painted white, holding tiny red hearts with Scotch pine at the base in a milk glass container, which made a festive Valentine Day setting.

Mrs. Meriweather showed an Easter dinner table setting. She placed white china on a gray and yellow cloth and yellow tapers in white candleholders. Her "egg tree" set in bark held Easter eggs of gay tints on its branches, with fresh flowers at its base. These included iris, tulips, daffodils, and white mums.

Mrs. Wash Lough described a St. Patrick Day's brunch table setting. She placed green china on a white cloth. Green shamrocks surrounded her arrangement of white mums and greenery in a white container. Little gremlins were perched at various angles in the arrangement.

Mrs. Orville Jenkins displayed her table setting for a Fourth of July picnic. She placed an arrangement of plastic skyrockets (using red, white and blue) on a red base complete with drum. This was on a white cloth with white china.

The next meeting of the club will be a Dutch treat luncheon at the Terrace Lounge Feb. 14. Mr. Harford Renick will present the program on "African Violets."

Yesterday and today

WARTIME beauties of the '40s piled hair atop heads and painted lips bright red.

BY JOAN O'SULLIVAN

MANY WOMEN have a beauty look that's more yesterday than today, says Pablo Manzoni, Elizabeth Arden's creative director. They simply repeat the makeup they wore when they were young when they were their most attractive.

"Perhaps it's the pale lipstick of the '60s or the browless look of the '20s and '30s," says Pablo. "And it's wrong for now."

Pablo thinks women should change with the times. For 1975, makeup is a matter of balance, he feels.

"It's a look that gives equal importance to eyes, lips and cheeks," he says, "with each feature receiving as much attention as the others. Color is important. It's of medium intensity, warm and pretty."

"Today," says Pablo, "it's not how much makeup you wear but how well you apply it to create a look that doesn't give away the number of products you have in your makeup case."

Young ideas

By JOAN O'SULLIVAN

LITTLE GIRLS are as fashionwise as big ones. They insist on wearing the latest, whether it's jeans or bell bottoms. At the moment, it's flared pants. As seen in Aileen Girl's new collection for sizes 7 to 14, the flare is modified to suit a young miss whether she's lean or plump. Bell bottoms, never flattering, are out.

The top that's tops with the young set is a hooded one. Girls seldom wear the hood up but they like hoods anyway.

Sporty tops with embroidered motifs or appliques are also popular, especially when they are teamed with pants that show the same applique or embroidered motif.

Our new teacher for this week is Mrs. Dorothy Moon. She was born and raised in Wilmington, where she attended high school. She continued her education at Wilmington College in business administration.

She is married and has two children Kim, 21, and Bart, 19. Her husband is employed at DESC in Dayton. When asked her hobbies, she replied, "I'm a lover of athletics and enjoy all sports."

Mrs. Moon has taught at Clarksville and Blanchester. She said she really likes the faculty and students at Trace.

Business, general, and intermediate math are Mrs. Moon's classes. She also assists with FBLA and National Honor Society.

Dean was selected as a delegate to Buckeye Boys State and also was named to "Who's Who Among American High School Students."

International Studies is his favorite subject, while his hobbies are watching TV, playing sports, and having fun.

Dean's advice to the underclassmen: "I've really had a lot of fun at Trace, and I'm really going to miss all the friends I've made. So all of you underclassmen, make the best of your four years, because they'll be gone before you know it."

In the future Dean wants to go into a technical or a business field.

Kim Jeanette Jacobs is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Russell Jacobs Jr., of New Holland.

Kim's activities includes AFS-one year, Y-Teens-one year, Future Teachers - three years, concert band - one year, stage band - one year, symphonic band - two years, symphonic choir - one year, bowling club - one year, yearbook staff (art editor) - one year, and 4-H - seven years. She was also chosen to appear in the annual edition of "Who's Who Among American High School Students."

In her spare time Kim enjoys painting, sketching, playing the piano, and listening to music. Her favorite classes are Art III and music theory.

Kim's comments were, "My years at Trace have been some of the best of my school years. I advise the underclassmen to make all the friends they can and make these years great for them too, because the years are gone so fast."

In the future Kim plans to major in art education but is undecided on which college she would like to attend.

Raymond W. Mick, son of Mr. and Mrs. Emmitt Mick, Bogus Road, is an active member of the Gregg Street Church of Christ in Christian Union.

He has been in 4-H for nine years and has held the offices of safety leader and vice-president. He is a member of the Miami Trace Folksingers and a four-year member of the band. His favorite activity is Folksingers and his hobbies are horseback riding, hunting and singing.

In his final year at Miami Trace, Raymond leaves the underclassmen with a bit of advice: "I have enjoyed my years here at Trace and almost hate to leave. I advise the underclassmen to try earnestly to produce more communication between themselves and the administration."

After graduation, Raymond plans to continue working at Clark's Cardinal and also take a correspondence course to further his education.

Edward Glenn Armintrout is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Glenn Armintrout, Bogus Road. He is an active member of the Gregg Street Church of Christ in Christian Union and is vice president of his class there.

Toothache gum taken off market

CINCINNATI, Ohio (AP) — The U.S. Food and Drug Administration filed suit in U.S. District Court to force a Cincinnati firm to remove toothache remedies from the market until they are proven safe.

A spokesman for C.S. Dent and Co., said the firm will probably destroy the questioned medicine, Dent's Toothache Drops Dent's Toothache Gum.

The FDA office in Cincinnati said there is no evidence that the substance is harmful, but law requires evidence that it is safe before it can be marketed for internal use.

Seniors of the Week

BY CHRIS OATES

The first senior of the week is Steve Six, son of Mr. and Mrs. David Six, 8 Heritage Court. Steve is involved in three bands this year, marching, concert, and symphonic. Some of his hobbies are bike riding and swimming. He is also an active member of Grace United Methodist Church.

Steve hasn't decided what he will do after graduation. His advice to the underclassmen was, "Stand up for what you believe in and make the most of your school years."

The next senior is Julia Foster, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Dee H. Foster, Sr., 825 Rawlins St. Her activities include, Senior Y-Teens, AFS, Future Teachers, varsity cheerleading, band, and GAA. She is also a member of the National Honor Society, and the president of DECA. Julia enjoys dancing, swimming, gymnastics, and just talking to people.

She plans to attend Ohio State University and major in Social work after graduation. Her comment about school was, "I've had good times and bad times at Washington Senior High, as all students will. I've learned a lot about people. Be prepared underclassmen for a quick end to your high school years. They go faster than you expect, so make the best of them."

Next is Donnie Smith, son of Mr. and Mrs. Ralston M. Smith, 441 East St. Donnie is president of the senior class, secretary of the Hi-Y Club for two years, a member of student council and of "Who's Who Among American High School Students." He has been a three-year letterman for varsity football and basketball as a trainer. He ran track during his sophomore year, and plans to run again this year.

Donnie's hobbies are running, and playing any sport, listening to records, taking pictures, training, hunting, and talking with his friends. He plans to attend either the University of Kentucky or the University of Cincinnati, and obtain a bachelor's degree in either history or political science. He hopes to go into law later, or maybe psychology. Donnie commented, "My years at WSHS have really been great. I just hate to see them end. They were some of the best years of my life. I hope that the underclassmen will realize that it's the best time of their lives too. Then they can make the best of them! Good luck to everyone!"

The last senior is Susan Upp, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George H. Upp, 726 Warren Ave. Susan is a member of Y-Teens, holding the office of treasurer this year, and secretary her sophomore year. She has been a member of student council, secretary of the class last year, a member of Sunburst staff, AFS, and the band. Her interests are swimming, dancing, and attending the activities at school.

Susan isn't sure which school she will attend after graduation, but she wants to receive training for a job and move to Columbus. Her comment was, "I really love WSHS, and my senior is special to me. I really hate to graduate and leave all of my friends. My advice to the underclassmen is to work hard, but really enjoy school while you can because it's all over too soon."

'Simplicity, simplicity'

By SUE MOORE

"Simplicity, simplicity, simplicity! Instead of three meals a day, if it be necessary eat but one; instead of a hundred dishes, five; and reduce other things in proportion."

This quote by Henry David Thoreau was written over 100 years ago. Isn't it amazing how this quote can apply to our present lifestyle? In these days of economic strife, more and more people are returning to the "simple" way of life. People are finding more and more things to do, and less and less money to do them with! Food prices are skyrocketing at the same time unemployment is at its peak. If Thoreau could only see us now! Sooner or later, I believe more and more people will find that Thoreau was right. The simple way of life may have to be the best. We may find that the added luxuries of life are not as important as we think. Those of us who don't want a simple life by choice may soon find that simplicity is a necessity.

So why don't we try Thoreau's philosophy before we have to? After all, a little simplicity never hurt anybody!

Check presented

By DEBBIE SYMMANS

Leslie Harrison, president of the youth chapter of AFS at Washington Senior High School, was present at the adult chapter meeting, held last Thursday evening in the school library.

She presented a check for $318.70 to the adult chapter to help sponsor an overseas student to attend WSHS or a local student to live abroad. The money was raised by the club in an adult membership drive held in October.

Lima shopping malls closing to save energy

LIMA, Ohio (AP) — Two major shopping malls in this city of more than 50,000 have begun closing Sundays to save natural gas and jobs.

Merchants met a request by Mayor Harry Moyer to close Sundays in order to keep local industries which use natural gas operating.

West Ohio Gas Co. treasurer Tom Newland described the voluntary conservation measure as "a positive step."

The mayor asked the merchants to continue the Sunday closings through March 9.

Some small stores remained open the first Sunday in January, and others threatened to reopen if the competition didn't stay shut.

Two students in test situation

All freshman students undergo long testing

BY DON JOSEPH

The freshmen at WSHS have undergone a day long test called the GATB. The counselors assisting in the test were Mr. Don Gibbs, Mrs. Phil French, and Mr. Maurice Pfeifer. The test was given to all freshmen student in the school plant.

The instruments in the photo were used for a part of the test which measures aptitude. When the results return, a list of jobs will be prepared for each student along with the results of the test telling which jobs the student would be best suited for.

The General Aptitude Test Battery (GATB) consists of 12 exercise designed to measure general learning ability as well as the following different aptitudes: mathematical skills, spatial skills, clerical skills, verbal skills, finger dexterity, manual dexterity, and motor coordination. The test results are given individually to each student, and not only gives the student's aptitude pattern, but also a comprehensive listing of occupations which match that student's aptitudes. Mrs. French stated that the test is, "an enjoyable test to take which challenges students to more than the ordinary knowledge skills. The GATB also offers a student a partial glimpse into the future in that he can look at occupations which match his aptitudes well." Mr. Gibbs believes, "The GATB is a good aptitude test. I like it because it actually tests dexterity - I don't know how other tests do this without objects to manipulate. Students seem to enjoy the test."

The Blue Lines

Money Matters

by David Six

This Is A Time Of "Experts" - "Specialists" . . .

In times such as these, EVERYTHING seems to become more complicated as we are personally confronted with an ever-increasing multitude of regulations, restrictions, frustration, irritations.

Seems there hardly is the time, or the capability, to do just one thing well, let alone handle all of the personal concerns incident to just plain living.

More and more we must turn to the "specialists" or experts for advice and guidance.

So it is with the concerns involving personal financial and investment matters.

From one who has seen so much of the difficulties that develop when one tries to "swim" beyond his depth, attempts to "DO his own thing" in strange surroundings - here is my advice.

Take advantage of the opportunity to talk with your Banker about even the most trivial of financial matters. He will NOT charge for advice and WILL welcome your questions.

Best wishes to Edward Fisher on his appointment to City Council and thanks to Hugh S. "Bud" Patton for his past services to Council.

Congratulations to Mr. & Mrs. David Shaeffer for winning the First 1975 Baby award.

True, no charge, no obligation for advice and guidance - not at our Bank, your friendly First National Bank of Washington Court House. But, to be of help we must know of your concern. So, do not hesitate to all - we have the experience and the know-how to come up with the right answers.

Knowles tape closes case of murder

MACON, Ga. (AP) — Crawford County officials announced Tuesday they had closed their investigation into the strangulation of a Musella woman after reading a transcript of a portion of the taped diary of Paul John Knowles.

Sheriff L. A. O'Neal said the body of Kathy Sue Woods Pierce, 24, was found Aug. 23 in the bathroom of her house, a telephone cord around her neck.

O'Neal said he was instructed by the federal grand jury in Macon which is listening to the diary "not to reveal any information on the tapes."

Macon Dist. Atty. Fred Hasty said his office also had received a summary of the tapes. But he said his investigation into the death of Edward Hillard, 24, and the disappearance of Hillard's girlfriend, Debbie Griffin, 20, both of Jacksonville, Fla., was continuing.

Hillard's body was found in the western part of Bibb County Nov. 15. Officials indicated he could have been slain after Knowles made the taped diary and turned it over to his Miami attorney Sheldon Yavitz.

Knowles was charged with seven murders in three states before he was killed while attempting to escape custody near Douglasville, Ga. Douglas County Sheriff Earl Lee testified at an inquest that Knowles had admitted killing 18 persons in seven states.

U.S. District Court Judge Wilbur D. Owens Jr. ruled Jan. 7 Knowles' diary would remain in custody of the federal grand jury until it concludes its investigation. Owens said law enforcement authorities, however, could have written transcripts of portions dealing with crimes committed in their jurisdictions.

defendants forfeiting bonds for failure to appear in court.

William H. Walker, 44, Columbus, was fined $200, sentenced to three days in jail and receive a 30-day suspension of his driver's license by acting Judge Omar Schwartz when he pleaded guilty to the DWI charge. Walker was found innocent of an additional charge of operating a motor vehicle while under license suspension.

John H. Shaw, 34, Williamsport, and James O. Conley, 37, of 146½ N. Fayette St., each forfeited $500 surety bonds on charges of driving while intoxicated. Conley forfeited an additional $25 on a charge of driving left of center.

Three other defendants were fined Tuesday on traffic charges filed by Washington C.H. police officers. Michael W. McCoy, 20, of 817 Broadway St., was fined $15 after pleading guilty to failure to stop for a red light; Ricky Arnett, 21, Route 5, pleaded no contest to a charge of excessive noise and was fined $10; and Michael D. Oyer, 20, of 1094 Springlake Drive, was fined $10 when he pleaded guilty to a charge of making an improper turn.

Those forfeiting bonds were: Robert M. Deskins, 31, Rt. 5, $50, speeding; Richard J. Harris, 34, Louisville, Ky., $35, expired driver's license; Michael W. Gardner, 27, of 1022 Rawlings St., $35, speeding; Robert L. Yarger, 37, of 1025 Dayton Ave., $35, speeding; Robert E. Duncan, 33, Rt. 2, $25, failure to drive on right half of roadway; Stella M. Schwartz, 85, Mount Sterling, $25, failure to yield the right of way; Donald K. Gray, 19, Greenfield, $25, starting without safety; Kenneth B. Baughn, 62, of 808 S. North St., $25, backing without safety; Robert L. Moats, 36, of 926 S. Fayette St., $25, speeding; Dale A. Hoffman, 32, Milford, $25, failure to display required motor vehicle registration plates; Ralph L. Stacey, 24, Cincinnati, $18, failure to obey a traffic device; and Steven T. Butcher, 18, Bloomingburg, $18, failure to stop for a stop sign.

Check charge is dismissed

A bad check charge was dismissed against a Jamestown man in Municipal Court Tuesday by acting Judge Omar Schwartz.

Bill J. Woody, 49, of Jamestown, had been charged with passing a bad check to the Carter Lumber Co., CCC Highway-W, last Nov. 22. The charge was dismissed Tuesday by a motion of the prosecuting witness.

In one other non-traffic case aired Tuesday, Norman T. McNeal, 32, of 527 Harrison St., forfeited $100 bond for failure to appear in court on a charge of disorderly conduct.

Over 100 persons to be employed

Kroger store to open Jan. 26

The new $6 million Kroger Co. superstore, located at 548 Clinton Ave., will open at 9 a.m. Sunday, Jan. 26, according to T.J. Mazza, director of public relations for the Kroger Co., Columbus.

Mazza said Washington C.H. City Manager Dan Wolford and store manager Chuck Edwards will slice the ceremonial ribbon to officially open the complex on Jan. 26.

THE WASHINGTON C.H. store will employ over 100 Fayette County area residents. It will be open 24 hours per day, except midnight Saturday to 9 a.m. Sunday.

No date was released for the opening of the Super-X drug store.

The new superstore will replace the existing Kroger Co. store located at 238 S. Main St. The real estate transaction, one of the largest ever consummated in Washington C.H., includes an exchange of locations between the Kroger Co. and Don's Auto Sales, 518 Clinton Ave., now occupying a part of the new shopping complex.

The 46,578-square foot shopping complex was constructed by the Breyfogle Construction Co., of Columbus. Construction included demolition of more than a dozen residential and commercial buildings on the tract along Clinton Avenue between W. Court Street and Draper Street.

According to Mazza, the new store is about 30 per cent larger than normal stores. "The new stone and brick archways at the front of the store are the first indication of the dramatic changes customers will see. But the real differences are inside," Mazza said. "It's spacious, yet warm and friendly. Part of the feeling comes from the departmentalized treatment of various sections such as wines, produce and international foods. Wood beams and golden lights accent and dramatize the greatly-expanded variety of products offered to shoppers," he noted.

He said the new store contains almost twice the number of items available in a standard supermarket. There are complete sections such as Italian, German, Mexican and Chinese. An assortment of health food is included, such as sunflower seed soup, sea-salted soybeans and safflower mayonnaise.

A Manhattan-style delicatessen will be included in the Washington C.H. store, Mazza said. The delicatessen, which is topped by a wood-shingle roof and accented with golden glow of lighted panels, has prepared foods of all kinds to carry home.

Mazza said shoppers will also find a complete assortment of greeting cards, including gift wrappings and candles in addition to more brands and sizes of canned foods.

"The new Washington C.H. store is doing its part to help conserve fuel and wood," Mazza said. More than 3,500 pounds of cardboard will be recovered for recycling at the store each week, thanks to a hydraulic compactor-baler. The baled cardboard is sent to paper mills to be used to make new boxes.

Fuel (natural gas or liquid propane) is being saved by the new heat reclaim system in the new store, Mazza said. He said this is accomplished by utilizing heat from refrigeration condensing units. In the conventional system, the hot gas from the refrigeration compressors was cooled by large exhaust fans which blew the hot air outside the store—much like a home air conditioner. In the new heat reclaim system, the hot gas flows constantly from the compressors to the heat reclaim coil. The heat reclaim coil is then used to heat the air being circulated throughout the store. It is expected that the new superstore in Washington C.H. will realize up to a 60 per cent savings in fuel consumption with the new system.

MAZZA SAID to further ease the energy crunch, the new superstore will operate on a reduced lighting system.

Under this program, one-third to one-half of the lights will be turned off at various times throughout the day and night. This will be accomplished by an automatic shut-off system that will reduce and increase the lighting at specified times.

All refrigerated and frozen products in the store will be under the protection of a new temperature-sensing system. Each case is equipped with a temperature sensor that is connected to a master panel in the store office. Should the temperature of any case become too hot or too cold, Mazza said an alarm light will flash on the master panel indicating the problem immediately.

This will enable store personnel to keep refrigerated products fresher and maintain frozen foods at the best possible temperature, he said.

Rotary Club members hear 'foreign policy briefing'

Crises lurking over the United States coupled with what could possibly be termed as a foreign policy briefing on the worldwide situation were dealt with an interesting presentation during the regular weekly luncheon meeting of the

Washington C.H. Rotary Club Tuesday in the Country Club. Walter W. Birge, vice president of the international division of the Ohio National Bank, Columbus, spoke to the Rotarians on the major problems presently confronting the U.S. such as oil, energy, food shortages, recession and inflation and said that the bulk of these problems are inter-related and contribute to each other.

OPENING HIS presentation on an optimistic note, Birge said "America has always faced up to a crisis and that these problems will be resolved sooner or later."

Speaking on the oil situation, Birge said that one of the primary problems is that tremendous volumes of money are pouring into the so-called poor Arab countries, causing catastrophic problems. He said, for instance, Iran is a rapidly developing nation and is absorbing the influx of money, while the others are not.

Birge, an admitted booster of Secretary of State Henry Kissinger's foreign policies, said he is in favor if the present policies in the oil situation which call for the large oil-consuming nations such as the United States to form a common front against the Arabs.

On the subject of energy conservation, Birge said he favored the implementation of atomic energy, but that two primary problems — technology and environmental — have prevented development of that source of energy.

He indicated that the oil problem would be solved in the next few years, but that present conservation measures are still important. Birge said he expects a 25 per cent increase in the amount of oil in the near future because of the new oil fields presently being developed, especially off Alaska.

Birge said the inflation-recession problem is not only concentrated in the United States, but across the globe, and it is closely related to the oil situation. The U.S. is "about average" when compared with other countries in the world, Birge said. He noted that countries such as England, Japan and India "have their backs to the wall" while West Germany "is probably in the best shape."

In England, private enterprise is being squeezed to death and the labor movement is becoming stronger, according to Birge. The development of oil in the North Sea area could be a possibly recovery for England, he said.

While commenting on the situation in England, he said in France labor is becoming stronger and is being dominated by Communists.

A strong advocate of world trade, Birge said, "You can't influence countries if you're not trading with them"

ON THE world food crisis, Birge explained that in the past three years more food has been consumed than produced. He said the problem is further complicated with countries such as India where the population has increased by 10 million persons per year.

The meeting was conducted by club president Paul Crosby and the program was arranged by Glenn Hemsworth. During the meeting, Washington C.H. Police Chief Rodman Scott was accepted as a new member. He was sponsored by Dave Ogan.

Visiting Rotarians were Darrell French, of Wilmington, and Jerry Ardrey, of London. Student guests were Doug Maddux, of WSHS, and Keith Hart, of MTHS. Guests were David Six and John Marcum with Hemsworth, Mike Karpiaka with Al Heer, Chuck Winkle with John Lachat, Phil Brewer with Dr. Robert Woodmansee and Richard Brautigan and Delbert Kaughenbaugh with Clarence Cooper.

Optimistic outlook given at bank meet

An optimistic outlook was expressed by Richard E. Whiteside, president of the Huntington Bank of Washington C.H., at the bank's annual meeting held Tuesday.

During the meeting, A.H. Finley, Herbert Hoppes, Ralph K. Child, Ralph Theobald, Ronald K. Cornwell, Howard Wright, Paul Rodenfels, C. Glenn McCoy and Whiteside were all re-elected to the board of directors.

FINLEY WAS elected board chairman. Other officers are Whiteside, president; V. Leroy Barton, senior vice president and senior operations officer; Kenneth A. Payton, senior vice president and senior loan officer; Ronald Warner, vice president; Bruce Ream, vice president, and Eli Craig, assistant secretary and marketing officer.

"We have an optimistic feeling about 1975," Whiteside said. "Our plans for expansion will be carried out and if all the details and legal matters can be completed we fully expect to start a branch bank in Jeffersonville and should be well on the road to revamping and increasing the capabilities of our drive-in facility."

Whiteside said "1975 does present a challenge and the board of directors, the management and all the associates will take this challenge as an opportunity to better serve the community."

In reviewing the activities of 1974, Whiteside said, the progress had been "most satisfactory." He said, "Increase in assets to almost $35 million would have been considered impossible a few years ago." He pointed out the main reason for this growth was the attitude of all those associated with the bank. "They have accepted the responsibility to serve the community not only in banking but in many other areas. The confidence placed in the bank by individuals, businessmen and professional people and industry shows up in the growth," he noted.

"An unofficial survey of area merchants bears out the fact that 1974 profits were reasonable and for the most part kept up with the rate of inflation. The percentage increase was not as great as 1973 but the merchants were generally pleased," he said. "Inventories in the early part of 1974 caused some concern but these leveled out and by the end of the year were in line. Of course, there were those who had a rough time. This was especially true of the automobile industry during the last quarter."

HE EXPLAINED, "Farm income pretty well held its own. The weak area in farming was in livestock sales. Grain prices remained high enough for the farmer to have a reasonably good profit. Those who have held and not sold their grain are having second thoughts. The market appears fairly stable but does hold some uncertainties." He predicted the hog market would strengthen in late spring and hold good through 1975. Beef prices probably won't see much strength until late 1975 or early 1976, he said.

"We cannot allow the 'doom and gloom' philosophy to overcome us," Whiteside said in looking toward 1975. "It is the responsibility of the bank to take and keep a positive approach to each and every problem. It is our responsibility to overcome adverse publicity to the community. It is our responsibility to make sure prospective physicians, attorneys and other professional people, industry and business understand the positive side of our great area and they do not get a distorted view."

In closing he said, "Agriculture will lead the way in keeping the economy of this community strong. We can expect some weak areas. However, this is always true and is not due to any recession."

Second agronomy clinic to be held on Jan. 23

The second annual Fayette County agronomy clinic has been scheduled for Thursday, January 23 from 9:30 a.m. until 3:15 p.m. in the Mahan Building, according to John Gruber, county extension agent, agriculture. In announcing the meeting, Gruber stated that emphasis in this year's clinic would again be on corn and soybean production.

The agronomy clinic is being sponsored as a joint venture between the Fayette County Extension Service and fertilizer dealers of Fayette County. The purpose of the clinic is to provide up to date information for the constantly changing production factors.

Topics to be covered and resource people include corn-soybean tillage by Sam Bone, OSU extension agronomist; soil drainage and corn-soybean production by Byron Nolte, OSU extension agricultural engineer; corn-soybean herbicides by Ed Stroube, OSU extension agronomist; data by Gruber; and insecticides and fertilizer use and supply, Al Baxter, area extension agronomist.

Gruber said that the program has been planned to allow plenty of time for questions and concerns of participants.

Lunch will be served at noon compliments of the cooperating sponsors. Fertilizer dealers cooperating include Fayette County Landmark, Swift Farm Service Center, Flo-lizer Inc., Agrico, USS Fertilizer, and Washington Crop Service.

All Fayette County and surrounding area farmers are invited and encouraged to attend this clinic. Over 150 farmers were in attendance at the 1974 clinic.

Music promoters feel recession

By MARY CAMPBELL
AP Music Writer

Rock promoters are singing the recession blues. Their ranks are dwindling and their audiences shrinking as inflation eats up teenagers' spending money.

"This is the first year that rock 'n' roll hasn't operated outside the real world with its real problems," says Howard Stein, whose Academy of Music more or less has succeeded the closed Fillmore East as New York's Carnegie Hall of rock. "The kids are being forced to make decisions about which shows they will see and the many they won't see, as opposed to buying all the major concerts almost automatically."

"Basically, concert attendance is off somewhere between 25 and 40 per cent across the country. Right now, in a business that had maybe 30 well-known promoters, in my encyclopedia of promoters there are maybe 12 major ones left. And I believe there will be about six solvent ones by the end of spring. It's going to be a Darwinian era — it will be the survivors."

Ron Powell, who books concerts in 16 cities in the Midwest and the South, agrees. "There aren't many of us left," he said. "It is a luxury, let's face it. These kids can survive without rock."

Powell blamed the downturn totally on the economy. The music is still popular, he said, predicting record sales would go up as concert attendance goes down.

Bill Graham, who books many of the big cross-country tours, including Harrison, the Crosby, Stills, Nash and Young reunion tour and Bob Dylan in 1974, says: "I think the rock tour has reached it's peak. It could go on for years, but I can't see how it could get much bigger."

"You know, the superstar groups will still have no trouble selling out wherever they go — the Rolling Stones, Elton John, Jethro Tull, Led Zeppelin — but the mid-range groups and the new groups will be hit hard. It used to be you'd book one headliner and two unknown acts. Now you'll book two well-known acts with one unknown. There'll be fewer opportunities for new groups."

173 Khmer Rouge insurgents killed

PHNOM PENH, Cambodia (AP) — Government forces killed 173 Khmer Rouge insurgents in a series of attacks and counterattacks around besieged Neak Luong, the Cambodian military command claimed today.

The command said its forces also captured a large quantity of war materials from the insurgents threatening the naval base town on the Mekong River 32 miles southeast of Phnom Penh.

Government casualties were not reported.

Military sources reported an estimated 20,000 refugees have crowded into the town since the Khmer

Rouge began a dry-season offensive on New Year's Eve. The sources said the insurgents' shelling has killed about 50 civilians and wounded about 200.

Khmer Rouge guns now dominate more than 40 miles of the Mekong shipping channel to Phnom Penh. No supply convoys from Saigon have come up the river for 26 days.

Troop reinforcements are being flown to Neak Luong by helicopter, military sources said.

The insurgents shelled Phnom Penh's airport for the 10th day, an army source reported. He said eight 107mm rockets were fired, and four sentries were wounded.

Trace upsets Tigers, 71-68

By SANDY FOSSON
Record-Herald staff writer

"We did what we haven't done in the past—we kept our patience and shot the good percentage shots when they were ahead," Coach Dale Creamer said after his Miami Trace Panthers out-paced the Greenfield Tigers 71-68 Tuesday.

Creamer noted the patience of his players against the strong Greenfield zone defense in the fourth quarter after the Tigers surged ahead of the Panthers by eight points (55-47) late in the third quarter appeared to have been the key to the game.

He added the Panthers have continually gained self-confidence since the upset of undefeated London 66-58 in a non-league tilt two weeks ago. Although the Panthers dropped to Unioto 72-74 last Friday, Creamer said his team played well and personal fouls had killed any chances for winning.

Miami Trace, sparked Tuesday by 6'6" senior center Randy Rhonemus, who connected for 16 points and pulled down 13 rebounds, now holds a 5-6 overall record and is 3-4 in the South Central Ohio League after the defeat of the Tigers, who had been hoping to oust Circleville out of the number one spot in the SCOL.

"We had a good performance from all our players," Coach Creamer said, but he gave special honors to Rhonemus, whom he said played "super" in "his best game of the year." He also singled out Phil Skinner as providing "good senior leadership at the guard position" and the rebounding of Alan Conner with 12 and Art Schlichter with eight, in addition to five assists. Skinner shared high scoring honors with Greenfield's Steve Harvey with 17 points each and Skinner was credited with four steals in aiding the Panther win.

"It was a big game for Greenfield," Coach Creamer added, reiterating the Tigers' were just one game out of first place behind the strong Circleville team in the SCOL. The loss added to the Tigers' worries after Circleville headed off the Washington C.H. Blue Lions 62-50 in another Tuesday night clash.

The Tigers' sixth year head coach Sam Snyder said he though the Panthers played a very good ballgame against his Greenfield team. "They were fired up for us—they knew we were big league contenders so they were ready and played well."

Snyder said the huge upsurge in turnovers during the fourth quarter of action by his Tigers and the strong performance by Miami Trace's Rhonemus were the major criteria in killing the Tigers' chances for another victory.

However, Snyder praised the efforts of his team with Steve Harvey's 17 points and "close to 20 rebounds" and the outstanding all-around performance by senior Bill Flynn.

"We played some different people; we moved Flynn to forward, which was good for the zone press and gave us more quickness but really hurt us in rebounds," Snyder said.

Miami Trace appeared to have had the edge over the Panthers from the beginning, maintaining a good lead up to halftime when the Panthers were out in front of the Tigers 35-28.

However, the Tigers charged out of the lockerroom overpowering the Panthers the entire third and early fourth quarters, holding an eight-point lead at one time. Tigers' senior Joe Stewart scored all 12 of his points in the last half of the game and Flynn tallied 12 of his 15 points in the last half of play.

GREENFIELD (68) - Harvey 6-5-17; Flynn 4-6-14; Stewart 4-4-12; Holsinger 4-4-12; Barr 3-2-8; and Willett 1-1-3; McCoy 1-0-2; Total: 23-22-68.

MT reserves win soundly

The Miami Trace reserves outbounded the Greenfield crew 36 to 17 to defeat the Tigers' reserve team 66-48.

The loss drops the Tigers to 5-2 in the South Central Ohio League while boosting the Panthers to 5-2 in the league.

Although the Tigers were paced by the sharpshooting sophomore guard Eric Dunson with 26 points, the Tigers only shot 45 per cent from the field as compared to 64 per cent for the Panthers.

Miami Trace had four players hitting into the double figure bracket, being led by Brant Dunn with 17 points. Other high scorers pacing the win were Terry Rodgers with 14, Joe Black with 13 and Sam Grooms connecting for 12 points. Kevin Kensinger completed in 10 points for Greenfield to complete the double figure leaders.

Box score

MIAMI TRACE (66) — Dunn 8-1-17; Rodgers 7-0-14; Black 5-3-13; Grooms 6-0-12; Ervin 3-2-8; and Spears 1-0-2; Total 30-6-66

GREENFIELD (48) — Dunson 11-4-26; Kensinger 5-0-10; Watts 2-0-4; Legee 1-2-4; Hawkins 1-0-2; and Waver 1-0-2; Total 21-6-48

Scoring by quarters:

Greenfield 10 16 12 10-48

But the steam dissipated after the Panthers came back within one point of the Tigers 63-64 with a little over two minutes left in the game, and Panther Gary English was at the foul line to shoot a one-and-one situation. English missed the shot but an over-zealous Tiger player crossed the foul line too quickly, giving English two extra tries.

UP FOR TWO — Miami Trace Dan Gifford (44) is shown as he shoots for two points in Tuesday's game against the Greenfield Tigers. The Panthers upended the Tigers' hopes for a share of the SCOL crown with the quick rebounding of Randy Rhonemus (52), who also scored 16 points in the 71-68 defeat of the Tigers.

He connected on both throws to boost the Panthers ahead.

The Panthers were able to maintain a slim lead the remainder of the game, defeating the Tigers 71-68. Only one player fouled out during the game when Greenfield's Stewart left with just 43 seconds left on the clock.

The Tigers must now bounce back from the blow landed by the Panthers to fight Hillsboro this Friday in a tight rivalry between the two Highland County teams.

While the Tigers meet the Indians Friday, the Panthers will be traveling to Wilmington for another league match. "We've got to ignore their record (0-8) and the defeat we handed them in our first game," Coach Creamer said in looking ahead to the weekend clash. "We'll have to remember that Wilmington is traditionally a good ball team and they'll be playing on their home floor so we'll have to be mentally prepared for them."

East wins All-Star encounter

PHOENIX (AP) — Walt "Clyde" Frazier, the New York Knicks' imperturbable guard, came out the biggest winner in the 25th National Basketball Association All-Star Game.

Not only did he receive the game's Most Valuable Player award for scoring 30 points and leading the East to a 108-102 upset victory over the West Tuesday night, but he collected $500.25 — 25 cents more than any other member of the winning team.

The extra quarter was the result of a "fun bet" Frazier had made prior to the game with the East's 12-year-old ballboy.

The youngster thought the West was going to win and he put up his money against Frazier's. And after the game Frazier was just as willing to take it, after some friendly razzing with the youngster.

This was the second of Frazier's two consecutive brilliant games at Veteran's Memorial Coliseum, where a record crowd of 12,885 turned out for the glittering, nationally televised All-Star Game.

Only last Saturday, in the Knicks' final game prior to the All-Star break, Frazier connected for 43 points — one short of his career high — against the Phoenix Suns.

The 30 points against the West, on 10-of-17 shooting from the floor and 10 of 11 from the free throw line, earned him his first MVP honor in his sixth consecutive All-Star start.

Frazier has played on two championship New York teams, in 1970 and 1973.

In the MVP balloting, he received 48½ points, one voter splitting his choice between Frazier and Kansas City-Omaha's Nate Archibald, the West's leading scorer with 27 points. Archibald wound up with 1½ votes and his West teammates Rick Barry of Golden State and Sidney Wicks of Portland had one each.

Ali slated for Cleveland fight

NEW YORK (AP) — Muhammad Ali says Chuck Wepner, a journeyman heavyweight who makes more money selling liquor than in the ring, deserves the shot at the heavyweight championship Ali is scheduled to give him in March.

Ali also said Tuesday as he received the Hickok Professional Athlete of the Year Award for 1974, a year in which he beat Joe Frazier and regained the title from George Foreman:

"If I'm like I should be, he (Wepner) has no possibility to win."

This immediately brought up the question that will the public buy a fight, even an Ali fight, against an unranked opponent who has been called the "Bayonne Bleeder" because of his reputation as a bleeder.

"Go to the promoter and ask him why he put up the $1.5 million," replied Ali.

The promoter is Don King, the site is the Cleveland Coliseum, the date is March 24— and Herbert Muhammad,

Ali's manager, said Tuesday, "the fight is definitely on."

King apparently came up with the $1.5 million guarantee before the Tuesday deadline set by Muhammad, who said if King didn't get the money, Ali would fight third-ranked Ron Lyle March 24 at the Garden.

Muhammad said he now would like Ali to fight Lyle in the Garden in June, and "if we don't get the fight we want in June with the Garden, we will think about fighting Joe Bugner (the European heavyweight champion) in London."

As soon as Mike Burke, President of Madison Square Garden Corp., returns from out of town, "we'll get a hold of Herbert and close the fight," said Garden Boxing boss Teddy Brenner. Brenner said Ali would get $2.2 million for fighting Lyle, who is expected to receive $300,000.

Wepner's pay to fight Ali has been mentioned as $100,000, which would be far larger than any previous purse the 32-year-old Bayonne, N.J., fighter has previously earned in a career in which he has 30 wins, nine losses and two draws.

In fact, Ali's diamond studded Hickok Award belt, valued at $15,000, is worth more than Wepner has earned in any fight.

ABA chooses All-Star teams

NEW YORK (AP) — George McGinnis, the league's leading scorer, was a near-unanimous choice and the leading vote-getter on the West squad for the eighth annual American Basketball Association All-Star Game, the ABA announced today.

McGinnis, a 6-foot-8 forward, received 197.8 of a possible 200 points in voting by sports writers and sportscasters in each of the league's 10 cities and was a unanimous choice in all cities except Denver and San Antonio. He is averaging 29 points a game, is among the league leaders in rebounding and assists and will be appearing in his third consecutive All-Star Game since coming into the league.

Joining McGinnis in the West's starting line-up will be San Antonio's George Gervin at the other forward, Sven Nater of San Antonio at center and Mack Calvin of Denver and Ron Boone of Utah at the guards.

The game will be played Jan. 28 at the Hemis Fair Arena in San Antonio. The East starters will be named Thursday with the balance of both squads to be announced Saturday.

Circleville tops Lions for 11th straight

By MARK REA
Record-Herald Sports Writer

Led by a standout performance by junior guard Chuck Byrd, the Washington C.H. Blue Lions came close to the upset of the season against the Associated Press's third ranked team in the state, Circleville. However, the shocker never materialized as the Tigers went on to win their eleventh straight game, 62-50.

Byrd was the workhorse of the night, throwing in 28 points, collecting nine rebounds, and having four assists. Byrd amassed 16 points in the first half and scored 12 after intermission.

Perhaps the real seal of doom for the Lions was the foul line. They shot only three free throws the entire night while allowing Circleville to walk to the charity stripe 10 times. The Tigers never entered the bonus situation in the second half which was a big boost to their victory.

Circleville hit 45 per cent from the field, making 27 of 60 shots. The Lions saw 24 shots pierce the nets on 58 attempts for a 41 per cent average.

Washington led in rebounds, 31-26, but had three more turnovers than did the Tigers. Circleville gave the ball away 12 times while Court House lost it on 15 occasions.

The other statistics went to the Tigers. They had 16 assists to Washington's 11, and also had 13 steals while the Lions stole it just five times.

Circleville also led in shooting percentage at the free throw line. They hit seven of 10 attempts for a 70 per cent average. Court House made only two of three attempts for a 67 per cent average.

TWO OF THE MANY — Chuck Byrd (24) prepares to let fly with just one of scoring shots last night. Byrd collected 28 points, although not enough to win for his team as they bowed to Circleville, 62-50.

At the beginning of the game, the score was 2-0 in favor of Washington for the first 2:15. Then Circleville broke out of their cold spell and proceeded to put 10 unanswered points on the board for a 10-2 lead.

After running the score to 14-4, Lion head coach Garry Shaffer called a time out to settle his troops. The refresher did some good as they made up four points before the end of the quarter. The Tigers led after one period, 16-10.

During the opening seconds of the second frame, the Lions again went into a lapse and Circleville again held a ten point lead at 22-12. This was the point in the game where Byrd seemed to take matters into his own hands.

In the second quarter, he scored 12 of his team's 18 points and led the way to a tie score at halftime. George Moore and Biff Bumgarner combined for Circleville's entire second quarter total. The result of the fine individual performances was a 28-28 deadlock at halftime.

After halftime, the Tigers settled back into a zone defense that confused the offense that Washington was trying to employ. Harold Reed scored six points in the quarter to pace the Tigers as they took the lead, 45-40. Byrd and Doug Phillips collected all of the 12 points that the Lions got in the third quarter.

In the final quater, the Tigers put together streaks of five and six consecutive points and finally won the ballgame, 62-50. Reed again paced the Tigers with seven points in the fourth quarter.

Byrd led all scorers last night with a season high 28 points. It ups his SCOL average to 19.5 for the season. Phillips was the other Lion in double figures with 18 markers. The night brings his SCOL scoring average to 13.6 points.

Circleville managed three players into the double figures. Moore led the way with 18 counters followed by Reed with 17 and Bumgarner with 15.

Top rebounder for Washington was Byrd with nine followed by John Denen with eight and Phillips with seven. Moore picked off nine caroms for Circleville to lead his team. Complimenting him was Bumgarner with seven rebounds.

The win extends the Tigers' SCOL winning streak to seven games and their lead increased to two games as Greenfield lost to Miami Trace. The loss sends the Lions' league mark to the 3-4 level.

Each team has another game on tap this week. Circleville plays host to Unioto next Friday night. On Saturday night, the Lion entertain Jackson in a non-league bout. Game time for both will be 6:30 p.m.

Lion reserves win in overtime

Behind a 20-point performance by sophomore Mark Heiny, the Washington Blue Lion reserves captured a 61-54 overtime victory over the Circleville Tiger junior varsity.

Heiny canned six field goals along with eight foul shots for his twenty points. Also in double figures for the Lion jayvees were Doug Stewart and Scott Johnson, who collected 12 and 11 points, respectively.

Harmon Killebrew eyes Texas position

BLOOMINGTON, Minn. (AP) — The most prolific right-handed home run hitter in American League baseball history may be headed for the Texas Rangers and the manager for whom he enjoyed his best season.

Harmon Killebrew, 38, who has hit 559 home runs in a career spanning two decades with the Minnesota Twins, probably will sever his longstanding ties with the organization.

"It looks as though Harmon may not be with us this season," said Twins' owner Calvin Griffith, who's offering Killebrew a player-coach position for the 1975 season at a salary of $40,000 — less than half of his 1974 contract.

The win gives the Lions a 3-4 SCOL record while being 4-6 overall. Circleville's reserves now have a 4-3 league record while their all games card reads 7-4.

Ohio Bell to donate emergency equipment

Deaf group to receive communication units

Everyone associated with D.E.A.F., Inc., was floating on air Tuesday night following an open meeting with Ohio Bell Telephone Co. officials.

The meeting held at the telephone company garage on S. North Street attracted 12 deaf persons and some 25 other people interested in improving situation for the deaf in the Fayette County area.

Carl Wilson, of the Ohio Bell Telephone Co. office in Columbus, announced to the group that two telephone-typewriting units for emergency communications with the deaf would be donated to the Fayette County organization.

The only cost to the D.E.A.F. chapter here will be the purchase of coupling equipment for installation at the Stop 35. The total will be approximately $117.

Several of those attending the meeting were from Hillsboro. Seven of the deaf persons are associated with a local program at the Hillsboro Church of Christ.

Miss Janet Duvall, a local resident who has been active in communications with the deaf for some time, served as an interpreter for the meeting, relaying Wilson's presentation to the deaf through sign language.

Group raps Ohio EPA

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—The Ohio Lung Association criticized the Ohio Environmental Protection Agency Tuesday for its decision to eliminate some air pollution controls from major utilities.

"The present situation is a contradiction of terms and policies between state and federal EPA's," said Dale C. Hollern, executive director.

Late last year the Ohio EPA announced that a group of utilities would be permitted to disregard certain air pollution control regulations because of costs and installation problems.

At the time, EPA Director Ira L. Whitman expressed his faith in the controls.

He demonstrated the way the telephone-typewriter unit functions and said that employees of Ohio Bell would install the mechanism without charge.

When it is necessary to get a message to someone who is deaf, the unit can be most helpful. What is typed on the typewriter at one end of the line is sent by telephone cable to the typewriter at the other end and printed out.

Although having two units in the county cannot in itself produce a means of communication for more than one deaf resident, it is a start that D.E.A.F. hopes will grow into a much larger system. The one available receiver will be loaned to deaf residents who are alone when hearing members of their family are out of town for extended periods of time.

4-H roundup

BY JEANNIE ANDERSON
4-H Assistant

County 4-H Key Leaders can markedly increase a 4-H program's effectiveness, by helping volunteer leaders improve their teaching techniques and broaden their subject matter knowledge.

4-H Key Leaders are adults, who've mastered specific 4-H project areas, and who have enough experience or innate ability at working effectively with other people, that they can teach other adults who turn to become 4-H leaders. They're also contacts between 4-H agents, program assistants and local 4-H advisors.

KNOWING LEADERS' needs and wants, Key Leaders often can most effectively capitalize on ideas and leads they get for utilizing new resources from within their community.

Key Leaders and advisors, because of increased training, they'll get, will be able to improve educational experiences for young people they work with.

Children probably will participate more in 4-H projects because local leaders will be able to help them more. Because of their closeness to local leaders, key leaders can tell Extension staff about leaders' training needs, as well as need for project changes or adaptations.

Projects which may be "Withering on the vine" because Extension staff have little knowledge in the areas, get attention and leadership they need to keep them active, current and vital. They help 4-H Extension staff respond more readily and adequately to volunteers' needs and demands. They help 4-H reach more kids, with more meaningful educational experiences.

So who might become a county Key Leader? Well, for one, you! Particularly if you've already led several successful groups as a local 4-H project leader. But before taking on the role, you might first decide for yourself what you can do, what time you'll have, and how you would perform the new role. You might figure these things out by asking yourself: what help would you have liked as a new or experienced local project leader? Do you know what county, district, and state opportunities are available to your project members? ... Have you ever helped plan project-related events?

Because of the number and complexity of projects and the many activities that continue to grow, many times things that you would like to do, often go undone. Thus, Key Leaders can help expand and improve services, resulting in better trained leaders, more project completion by 4-H'ers, and greater variety of learning experiences for children.

TRAINING PROJECT leaders is very important, but it's often neglected. Key Leaders can help fill this void. Since they may have been project leaders themselves, they often understand leaders' problems better than 4-H agents. New project leaders, particularly, need someone they can call on. They need to feel they are part of the program and that someone is available to answer their questions and provide information or resource materials. They also need someone to help them get together with other project leaders to share ideas and discuss problems.

But Key Leaders aren't always giving or helping others. There's something in it for them, too. They gain much as they grow in direct proportion to their involvement in planning and conducting county-wide training in specific project areas. A Key Leader helps bring expansion and continuity to a county program.

If you are interested in becoming one of these Key Leaders, inquire at the County Extension Office at 335-1150.

Since the units cost nearly $700 each no one runs out to purchase them by the dozens, but D.E.A.F. hopes to raise the money to purchase them one at a time over the coming months or years. Stop 35 has agreed to maintain a unit at their station so that area residents could call with a message for deaf persons with a receiver and have it transferred.

One member of an organization in Columbus which is doing similar work marveled at the progress made by D.E.A.F. in its first few months. Most of what we have accomplished in Columbus in two years of work has been done here in two months.

D.E.A.F. attributed most of the credit to area residents who have been extremely generous. Miss Duvall cited Bob Woods, president of the local Telephone Pooneers of America chapter, who arranged help from Ohio Bell, and attorney John Bath, who filed the articles of incorporation without charging the group.

Alien workers face pressure

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Ford administration may enlist the nation's employers in a voluntary search for aliens illegally seeking and holding jobs in the United States.

Immigration Commissioner Leonard F. Chapman said he is considering the volunteer approach if Congress once again fails to enact legislation requiring employers to check on the citizenship status of job applicants.

The recent sharp increase in unemployment has given fresh impetus to the Immigration Service's two-year campaign for such legislation.

"It's really an incredible situation," Chapman said in an interview Tuesday. "While 6½ million Americans are unemployed, and that may go higher, there are at least a million and maybe two or three million aliens illegally holding jobs," he continued.

"The stereotyped image of the illegal alien as a little fellow working in the fields of the Southwest is out of date. They're now in heavy industry, light industry, construction work, driving taxis, working in clothing factories and restaurants. And they're making good money."

House Judiciary Chairman Peter W. Rodino Jr., D-N.J., agreed that aliens are holding "many jobs that would normally be filled by American workers."

Rodino issued the statement Tuesday as he again introduced the bill which would make it illegal for an employer knowingly to hire an alien unlawfully in the United States.

The bill has twice passed the House but stalled in the Senate.

Chapman said that, if the bill fails, "We're considering a voluntary program on the part of employers."

He said the approach has been tested in selected regions, including Denver where 12 companies agreed to permit Immigration Service officials to examine personnel records and screen job applicants.

Chapman repeated his frequent claim that the Immigration Service can Claim Nixon spoke to Burger on tapes case

NEW YORK (AP) — Former White House counsel John W. Dean III says a cellmate told him former President Richard M. Nixon was confident after conversations with Chief Justice Warren E. Burger that he would not have to surrender the Watergate tapes.

"I am told he had some conversations with the Chief Justice — Chief Justice Burger — shortly after this suit was filed, or somewhere along the line, that gave him confidence that he indeed was going to win the lawsuit," Dean said in an interview with the "NBC Nightly News."

Dean, released from Allenwood, Pa., federal prison last week, said he was told of the alleged conversations between Nixon and the Chief Justice by Charles W. Colson, a former White House aide, is still in prison.

Fireman's group elects officers

The Washington C.H. Fireman's Association held its first regular meeting of 1975 recently in the Washington Fire Department.

Officers elected for the year included: president, Fulton Terry; vice-president, David Smith; secretary, Gary Anders; and treasurer, Ed Helt.

Three representatives of Cor Tec, Inc., Robert Pfeifer, Barry O'Brien and Charles McKinney, presented an interesting demonstration of the different types of chemicals used in their plant.

Items discussed during the business meeting included possible projects for 1975. The first undertaking sponsored by the association will be a "flea market" to be held Jan. 25 and 26 at the rear of 920 Dayton Avenue.

The Association is composed of regular paid firefighters, volunteer firemen and associate members.

Oily Hair Problem

I notice that my hair, in the past few months, has become particularly oily. I haven't changed soaps or shampoo habits. Could a medical condition be responsible?

Miss J.W., Ohio

Dear Miss W.: Some people complain that oily hair occurs after the use of the shampoos and the soaps which are specifically made to combat dandruff.

Not all of these products will do this. Perhaps a change in the brand may be beneficial.

Similarly, some shampoos can cause an oiliness of the scalp and the hair.

There are some medical conditions which are related to some hormone imbalance. These should be investigated if the symptom persists.

When I have a sore throat I find that gargling is absolutely ineffective. Are there any better methods of easing a sore throat?

Mr. L.L.B., Maine

Dear Mr. B.: A patient of mine who happened to be a heavy smoker constantly complained of persistent sore throat.

His beefy-red throat was characteristic of a smoker's throat, even in the absence of infection.

He devised a method which gave him great comfort. He uses one of the pulsating water machines used for dental hygiene.

He uses a salt solution containing about one teaspoon of salt to a pint of very warm water.

He devised his own attachment to the tip so that it widened the opening, thereby reducing the sharp thrust of the usual flow.

I have suggested this method of irrigation to a number of patients. They find it far more effective than gargling.

Does it help to wear masks to prevent passing an infection from an adult to a newborn baby?

Mrs. H.H., Ga.

Dear Mrs. H.: Masks can indeed offer some protection, but must not be depended upon to filter out all germs. Even when one is worn, coughing and talking directly to the face of an infant may permit fine droplets of saliva to carry infection to the baby.

The bidding:

2♣	Pass	2♦	Pass
3NT	Pass	Pass	Dble

Opening lead - six of spades.

There are more safety plays in bridge than you can shake a stick at, and indeed one might say that they are of infinite variety. Recognizing them is often a serious challenge, and many a declarer falls flat on his face at the crucial moment.

Consider this deal where East doubled three notrump on the bidding shown, thus asking West to lead the first suit bid by dummy.

West duly led a spade, East winning dummy's jack with the king and continuing with the ace and another spade. Declarer's only reasonable chance, after winning the third spade with the queen, was to rely on a diamond finesse.

But when in the fullness of time he attempted it, East won with the king and cashed two more spades to put the contract down one.

Declarer missed a good chance to sew up the contract when he played the jack of spades from dummy at trick one. He should have realized that, by following low from dummy on the opening lead, no lie of the cards could defeat three notrump.

At worst, the defense would score three spades and a diamond, and at the same time South could feel sure of scoring two hearts, four clubs and three diamonds - even if the diamond finesse, when attempted, lost.

Of course, it may seem odd to follow low from dummy on the spade lead, but the principle that governs the hand is certainly simple enough. If declarer plays low from dummy he assures the contract against every possible lie of the cards, while if he plays the jack he jeopardizes the contract and, in the actual case, goes down.

There is only one sensible choice between these two extremes, and the safety play eloquently speaks for itself.

THE BETTER HALF

Prof pushes tax policy changes

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Although "stagflation" may begin to release its stranglehold on the U.S. economy by summer, an Ohio State University economist says immediate strong fiscal policy changes would hasten the economy's recovery.

Dr. Paul G. Craig, professor of public administration and economics, said it will be 1976 before the unique combination of virulent inflation and stagnant output, known as stagflation, completely loosens its grip on the country.

Craig suggested several changes, including increasing the supply of money and levying a substantial tax reduction.

"We need to allow the supply of money to grow more rapidly than it has recently to allow lower interest rates sooner," Craig said. "By doing that, we would also stimulate housing and other business investment."

"We also need a tax cut in the $15 to $20 billion range," he said, "in order to give the consuming public an increase in spending power."

Craig said, "The fear that has kept (President) Ford from doing it quickly is a result of inflation and the feeling that if you stimulate the economy, inflation will become worse instead of going away."

That view is wrong, Craig said, because there is "a lot of slack in the economy right now."

He said an increase in spending would use the economy and enable consumers to pull industry out of its slump back toward full use.

Craig suggested implementing a tax cut by sliding the present income tax schedule down one or more income brackets.

The U.S. public in the certain income brackets would get an immediate "raise" on the next paycheck because of less money withheld, Craig said.

The economic horizon, while gloomy, hides clearer skies, Craig said.

"The rate of inflation will recede during the next six months to something like a rate of 6 or 7 per cent," he said, instead of the present annual rate of 12 per cent.

Interest rates, which soared to a new high of 12 per cent during 1974, have started and will continue to fall during 1975, he said. Craig predicted the prime interest rate would drop to 8 per cent by summer.

Mortgage rates will also fall, he said.

And as a result of these changes in the economic weather, the barometer of business — the stock market — will begin to recover and turn upward, Craig said.

Craig said the economic turn-around would come without progressive policy changes, but added that his suggestions would aid the U.S. economy toward a fast and full recovery.

Grand theft charge lodged against man

A Washington C.H. man has been charged by the Fayette County Sheriff's Department with grand theft. Maynard D. Anders, 32, of 632 E. Paint St., allegedly stole 50 screwdriver sets valued over $500 from Mac Tools Inc., U.S. 35 SE, where he was an employee.

He was arrested Tuesday afternoon after a search warrant was served by Sheriff's Chief Deputy Bob McArthur, Sgt. William Crooks, Specialist Larry Walker, of the Washington C.H. Police Department, and security officer Walter Hockett, of Mac Tools, Inc. During the search, the screwdriver sets as well as other tools, were recovered. Sheriff Donald L. Thompson stated Anders' arrest was the result of an intensive investigation by his department and security personnel of Mac Tool, Inc.

Anders is presently free of $2,500 bond and is scheduled to appear in Washington C.H. Municipal Court for a preliminary hearing in the near future.

Happy Rockefeller decorates house

By ANN BLACKMAN
Associated Press Writer
WASHINGTON (AP) — Happy Rockefeller calls it "a nice old house." The leaky roof has been fixed, the plaster repaired and electricians are taking a look at the old wiring.

It may not be what a Rockefeller would choose, but if the wife of the new vice president has her way, their official residence on Observatory Hill will be "a wonderful, warm house for intimate entertaining ... where people can have a good time and put up their feet and relax."

Guests also can have their hair cut in the basement barbershop, select a bottle from the wine cellar and be waited on by a staff of nine Navy stewards.

"That includes the shift changes," Mrs. Rockefeller added quickly. "I don't want people to think there are nine servants here all the time."

Mrs. Nelson A. Rockefeller came to town Tuesday, from the Rockefeller estate in Westchester County, N.Y., to watch her husband, the new vice president, preside over the opening of the 94th Congress. She plans to move to Washington and into the new vice presidential mansion before summer.

Displaying disarming good humor and charm, Mrs. Rockefeller escorted about 50 reporters and photographers through the unfurnished, 82-year-old mansion in the Embassy Row section of the capital.

Called "The Admiral's House," it was formerly occupied by the chief of naval operations and sits on a 12-acre hillside owned by the Navy.

It was only Mrs. Rockefeller's second tour of the six-bedroom house. But with journalists crowding her as she walked from room to room, it was unlikely she got any idea of how she wants to decorate the place, which was the reason for her visit.

"It's hard to see with all of you here," Mrs. Rockefeller said with a laugh during a relaxed tour that included the master bedroom and the tiny, vice presidential bathroom.

Mrs. Rockefeller compared the size of the house to the Governor's Mansion in Albany where they lived while her husband was governor of New York. "About the same, but that was already decorated when I moved in," she said.

She said she tends towards warm colors and colonial furnishings, "Williamsburg-type." The Rockefeller family financed much of the restoration of colonial Williamsburg, Va.

Asked if she and her husband will display art from their collection, Mrs. Rockefeller said, "That's a question you should ask Nelson. He has some nice American prints. You know, 'Washington Crossing the Delaware,' Currier and Ives."

State files chicken suit

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — A suit against the National Broiler Marketing Association of Atlanta, Ga., and 38 food processors who are members of the group for allegedly conspiring to fix prices was filed by the State of Ohio Tuesday.

A similar suit recently was filed by the U.S. Department of Justice.

The suit charges the defendants with limiting competition by fixing minimum prices for chickens, controlling and withholding supplies in order to increase prices.

The state is a large consumer of broiler chickens for its colleges, universities, public schools, prisons and hospitals.

The court was asked to declare the alleged anti-competitive activity a violation of the Sherman Act.

Local resident hurt in city mishap

Two cars were severely damaged and a Washington C.H. man injured in an accident at 3:58 p.m. Tuesday, city police reported, along with two additional Tuesday mishaps.

Lamorne F. Everhart, 64, of 636 Belle-Aire Place, was the man injured at the intersection of North and E. Court streets in a mishap involving the car he was driving and a car driven by Harold D. Shonkwiler, 17, Bogus Road.

He was taken to Fayette Memorial Hospital by Police Patrolman Larry Mongold and treated for chest pain and bruises of the upper lip, hand and knee. Everhart was then released.

Shonkwiler was charged by police with not stopping for a red light.

Another mishap occurred Tuesday afternoon when the camper top on a truck driven by Herbena R. Terhune, 31, of 8 Winnepeg Plaza, scraped the overhang of a small building as she was pulling out of the municipal parking lot on S. Main Street.

Damage was estimated by police as slight and the mishap occurred at 3:35 p.m.

A garbage truck driven by Willis Cartwright Jr., 47, Ohio 41-N, backed into a car driven by Daniel P. Brink, 20, of New Albany, in the Sohio service station lot, corner of North and Court streets, at 9:16 a.m. Tuesday.

Police reported slight damage to the Brink auto.

Fair skies favor most of nation

By The Associated Press
Fair skies favored almost the entire country today, marred only by a scattering of rain and snow in the Pacific Northwest and light snow in the Midwest.

Arctic cold clung to the Eastern Seaboard and much of the Southeast. Temperatures dipped below freezing in north-central Florida long before daybreak, and readings in the 20s were the rule northward along the East Coast. The teens chilled inland sections of the East.

Rain fell in parts of the Northwest and turned to snow at higher elevations. The new snow in the Cascades brought snow slides on many slopes.

Rivers filled to their banks from recent rains and melting snow were expected to rise above flood stage in parts of southwestern Washington.

Light snow sifted into the northeastern Mississippi Valley and central Great Lakes region. Accumulations generally were an inch or less.

Milder weather fanned into the mid-continent after three mornings of sub-zero cold. Temperatures were up to 20 degrees warmer overnight than a day ago.

Readings before dawn ranged from 12 at Alamosa, Colo., to 65 at Santa Cruz Island, Calif.

The most bouncing baby on record is Elias Daou, of Suniani, Ghana, on Oct. 12, 1969. At age 22 months, Elias weighed 61½ pounds and his circumference was 35¾ inches.
